Lands Convention.

Denver, Colo., June 2.—Governor Henry A. Buchtel, who issued the call, in accordance with resolutions adopted by the general assembly of Colorado for the public lands general assembly of Colorado for the public lands convention, to be held in Denver June 18, 19 and 20, declared today that there shall be no politics injected into the gathering if he can prevent it. When he sent out the call he distinctly and emphatically stated the purpose of the convention was in no way to antagonize President and his administration with reference to the public land question. The President and his administration with reference to the public land question. The program prepared for the convention by a committee, of which United States Senator Teller is chairman, provides for the shaping of a more liberal policy to be submitted to congress for the enactment of laws which will make for the development of the submitted to congress for the submitted to congress for the development of the submitted to congress for the submitted t opment of the western states by bringing more people to them, to take up lands and questions he put them were:

"Do you favor some form of government control of the grazing lands under regulations that will fit the conditions for your district?" What arrangements will be best suited to your section—an absolute lease of the fencing rights or a permit to run live stock on the public lands with proper progeneral grazing live stock or forest re-serves, and do you approve it? If not, what are your objections and what would

what are your objections and what would you suggest?"

To 1,000 letters Mr. Tomlinson has received nearly 200 replies, and they are favorable to some plan of government control and regulation of all public lands in nine cases out of ten. Most of them want the government leasing system with fencing privileges. Some want grazing permits from the government. Ninety ner cent of them believe that the government to the committee has notified its representatives in London and New York that the time has arrived to cease agitation for foreign subscription, as Russia now is able to care for her own peoble.

Prince Lvoff said today that assistance sent to Finland from Great Britain and the United States had done in permits from the government per cent of them believe that the government control will give the little as well as the big stock growers a square deal. So the big stock growers a square deal. So favorable have been the replies to the administration's policies that the big stock association is now considered to be fully enlisted in the championship of the president's cause.

PLANS HAVE NOT BEEN WORKED OUT

after all it might be better to drop the matter or leave it for some other power to introduce. The government certainly is greatly disappointed at the manner in which the question has been received, the United States and Spain being the only powers showing any enthusiasm for it. Will Urge Uncle Sam.

Great Britain is anxious to do nothing at which Geranmy would take offense, and it is possible, therefore, that another power, probably the United States, will be urged to bring up the question with a promise of Great Britain's support.

Great Britain will, of course, do everything in her power to increase the efficiency of the court of arbitration, and the government is being pressed by its supporters to move for the throwing open of The Hague arbitration court to all nations and for the extension of the processes of arbitration, mediation and invescesses of arbitration, mediation and investigation, but on this point, as on other points, no decision has yet been reached.

The delegates will be instructed to give support to suggestions for the allevia-tion of sufferings caused by warfare, but they will carefully examine any questions of international law, such as the rights of neutrals, the possibility of exempting private property from capture at sea, contraband, the limitation of the right of search, commercial blockades, the organization of prize courts, floating mines,

May Make Concessions.

There is an element of the Liberal party represented in the cabinet that has made exemption of private property at sea one of the planks in its platforms, since Great Britain opposed the suggestion at the last Hague conference, so there is a possibility of the government making some concessions under this head if it can overcome the opposition of permanent officials of the foreign office.

Although Great Britain of all powers is Although Great Britain of all powers is more affected by the application of the more affected by the application of the principle that a public debt cannot justify armed intervention, Sir Edward Grey has practically agreed that should the United States propose the application of the Drago doctrine to the South American republics, Great Britain will not object to it.

PERMANENT CONFERENCE.

Argentine Proposal Which Will

Bring Matters to a Focus. Washington, June 2.—The Argentine proposal which is to be laid before the second Hague conference looking to the holding of a third international conference in 201 Main street.

Buenes Ayres in 1910 will, it is expected, result in bringing the second conference face to face with the American proposition to give the conference permanency and provide for periodical gatherings. Some of the great powers have been dragged into the second conference unwillingly by force of public opinion and are believed to be strongly averse to binding themselved to participate in a continuous round of meetings at which they would be constantly confronted with the danger of having to discuss or even vote upon delicate international questions that they would much rather leave untouched.

Lands Convention.

It is said to be the purpose of the conference to endeavor to secure an international agreement defining uniformly the right of a citizen of one nation to domicile in another nation and the extent of his liability to the demands upon him by the government of the country in which has taken up his residence. The proposition comes from Argentina and it would doubtless have been urged by Argentina as a proper number for the program of the approaching second conference at The Hague had it not happened that that program was practically closed Argentine's Proposal. that that program was practically closed before the project had taken definite form. So the Argentina delegates were instruct### ed to take the course indicated and ask for another conference in 1910. Americans Unwelcome.

In South America and Central America resident Americans are generally unwel-come visitors. They strenuously object to come visitors. They strenuously object to paying forced loans; refuse to render military service and by flaunting their many exemptions before the eyes of the natives cause much dissatisfaction among the officials. The state department has been inclined to the view that if Americans are living in a foreign country upon an income derived from that country and are without intention of returning to the United States to reside, they should be passed over to the sovereignty of their adopted country. Therefore it is probable The American National Stockgrowers association, whose last convention endorsed the grazing and forestry policies of the administration, will be a factor in the coming convention.

Man is the most wonderful of all living organisms. His aspirations and hopes reach beyond physical death. His dominion is over all the earth. His knowledge peers into the mystery of the stars, and he explores the hidden forces of nature and brings them subject to his will. While man is an animal living and dying as a brute, yet his endowments fit him for a higher destiny than they. Upon his brow is the stamp of immortality. His erect form, his beaming eye, his superior physique, his expanding intellect, his conscience and his spiritual nature all proclaim him to be more than a mere worm, or if a worm, he is ready to be transor if a worm, he is ready to be trans-formed into a still higher existence.
